BELIEVING IN THE 21ST CENTURY – THE CATHOLIC FAITH FACING CONTEMPORARY CHALLENGES

By François Euvé

How can we believe today in a secularized world, beset by crises and technological upheavals? To answer this question, Father François Euvé offers a comprehensive presentation of the Christian faith in constant dialogue with the major questions of our time. Each chapter examines a point of the Creed clearly and thoroughly, taking care to avoid both identity-based isolationism and relativism. This book is thus a valuable resource both for those searching for meaning and questioning the relevance of the Christian faith, and for Christians who wish to strengthen their faith in a changing world.

LEO XIV – PEACE BE WITH ALL OF YOU

By Benjamin Rosier

As is often the case in the history of councils, the election of Leo XIV came as a surprise to Christians around the world. Who is he? What spiritual message does he send to his Church and to the world? How can we follow him? This book takes stock of the Pope's human, spiritual, and ecclesial journey: biography, encounters that marked his spiritual life, major issues and challenges of his pontificate, a selection of great prayers from Tradition dear to his heart, as well as new prayers to accompany Christians who wish to pray for him, with him, for the Church, and for the world.

TO LIVE, TO BELIEVE, AND TO UNDERTAKE

By Les Edc

Key words: self-development – inspiration – strength
This book brings together accounts of some forty leaders on the path of conversion that faith has led them down. It encompasses the conversion of their hearts, but also of the organizations they led, adapting governance, structures, and working methods to evangelical fraternity and, more broadly, the conversion of society as a whole, within an ecological and social framework. This work illustrates that it is possible to align one's Christian faith with an economy of the common good in a wide variety of situations. It will therefore inspire many people in positions of responsibility to create something new in the world of work!

THE COURAGE OF LEADERS – LIVING AND LEADING DIFFERENTLY

By Hubert de Boisredon

Key words: self-development – inspiration – strength
Nourished by inspiring models and drawing on his experience as a leader, Hubert de Boisredon shares in this book the conviction that the courage of leaders is nothing other than an art of deciding, of living one's life and of leading with audacity, fortitude and perseverance. He also presents an original method of companionship, to develop in each person this ability to go to the maximum of what they can bear. His book is therefore a formidable tool for releasing the energy that lies dormant in each of us and that is just waiting to be awakened.

CAN THE CHURCH DISAPPEAR? A SHORT HISTORY OF THE CHURCH IN THE LIGHT OF THE RESURRECTION

By Didier Rance

This book develops an original approach to History, resolutely turned towards hope, by looking at ten "deaths" of the Church followed by a "resurrection"; ten times of peril, of danger, of risk of disappearing. In these difficult and uncertain times, the author tries to snatch readers away from the temptation of despair by showing that the Spirit has already raised the Church from mortal perils many times.

INVESTIGATION INTO YOUNG PEOPLE WHO WANT TO BECOME CHRISTIANS

By Antoine Pasquier

Many young adults are currently knocking on the doors of our churches. While this gladdens the hearts of all Christians, it also raises many questions: what prompted them to undertake such an approach? How can we help them deepen a faith about which some know almost nothing? How can the Church benefit sustainably from their enthusiasm? This book aims to lift the veil on the identity of these newcomers, what challenges they pose, and what developments they can bring to the whole Church. Its goal is to provide the means to welcome them and perpetuate this wave that prefigures, perhaps, the most unexpected religious revolution of our century.

THE SPIRITUALITY AT THE HEART OF CHRIST

By Father Michel Callies

The spirituality of the heart of Christ has given rise to many saints, nourished important revivals of piety, inspired countless orders, associations, and educational institutions. However, because of the deviations, confusions, and distortions that it has also undergone, it has become the object of many misunderstandings, which have ended up obscuring its true scope. Father Michel Callies invites us to rediscover this fascinating theme.

THE IMPREGNABLE CITADEL, A LITTLE METHOD TO RESIST THE ENEMY AND OBTAIN LIBERATION

By Father Guy-Emmanuel Cariot

Based on the image of a fortified city and the different elements that make it up, Father Guy-Emmanuel Cariot offers a very simple method to identify the places of suffering and sin in one's life, and how to obtain liberation. This very concrete method of spiritual warfare is the fruit of the author's spiritual support to suffering people who come to him as a diocesan exorcist.

LITTLE CONVERSATION ON THE DEVIL

By Father Gaultier de Chaillé

The contemporary culture is full of references to the devil (metal music, Hellboy movies, Lucifer television series…). With plenty of clarity and balance, Father Gaultier de Chaillé gives a detailed presentation on the devil, to distinguish between myth, folklore and who the devil really is.

A PATH OF FREEDOM FOR ALL

By Don Louis-Hervé Guiny

This narrative intends to show that spiritual warfare is a banal reality of Christian life, and that the struggle it involves is less directed against temptations than for our freedom. It unfolds day by day, at the heart of our daily choices, without involving anything apparently spectacular, and has as its horizon a fully incarnated and balanced holiness.

THE INVISIBLE UNIVERSE

By DonFather Dominique Auzenet & Bertran Chaudet

For Christians, the existence of an "invisible world" is one of the initial affirmations of the Creed. But what is the connection between their faith and the myriad beliefs proliferating in books and social media? How can one find clarity in a realm where the boundaries between beliefs and religions blur and merge? Drawing on their expertise, the authors undertake a process of vital discernment in this book, seeking to identify where our true salvation lies and to draw from the source of genuine hope—a hope that leads to true freedom.

I HAVE FORGIVEN

By Fouad Hassoun

A masterfully written testimony from one of the victims of the terrible attack in Lebanon, during which he lost his sight. In this book, he talks about the strength and greatness of forgiveness, from the most unthinkable to the smallest forgiveness of each day. A magnificent personal account, of a rare spiritual depth, which leads readers to question themselves on the essentials of their lives, on the truth of their human relationships, on the faith they have and in the reality of God's grace.

I HAVE CHOSEN THE FIGHT FOR PEACE

By Fouad Hassoun

Fouad Hassoun returns with a book rooted in his own intimate experience. For him, peace was not a quiet inheritance but the fruit of a quest, a struggle, and a demanding journey toward justice, forgiveness, and genuine healing—both inner and collective. Driven by the conviction that everyone is called to be an artisan of this true peace—one that does not merely repair walls but also heals hearts—he opens a path for readers to become patient builders of a more humane civilization. An essential read for these troubled times.

BAUDOUIN, A KING FACING THE CRISES OF HIS TIME

By Vincent Dujardin

The result of a colossal undertaking drawing on a vast array of archives, some of which were previously inaccessible, this biography is destined to become THE definitive work on the life of King Baudouin. These new insights shed light on the inner workings of the decisions he made within a historical context marked by numerous upheavals, and sometimes even lead to a reassessment of historians' judgments on these matters. They also allow readers to deepen their understanding of a man who was not initially prepared to be king but who, thanks to his wife Queen Fabiola, his sense of duty, and his profound faith, ultimately won the hearts of his subjects and earned universal acclaim.
